SIX WAYS TO INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY & REVENUE WITH PAPERLESS FIELD WORK MANAGEMENT

PART TWO

Today, there's no reason for service businesses like yours to rely on outdated, paper-based processes to manage technicians and engineers out in the field. Paperless processes optimize your workforce and asset delivery while creating a more streamlined, efficient operation to benefit your business long-term. Here are six more opportunities to increase productivity and revenue when you implement a digital transformation:

1 Improve Safety

Achieve total visibility and see all recorded data with KludGin. Regulatory compliance and reports are easy to create, and a digital checklist for PPE is included so workers are always protected.

- ✓ Receive digitized info reports.
- ✓ Easily complete audits.

2 Reduce Site Issues

For any issues, technicians can access manuals, instructions, or live videos. Real-time insight and information is always available, along with location-based info about both horizontal and vertical assets.

- ✓ No bottlenecks.
- ✓ Easily transfer information.

3 Improve Job Completion

All job information is updated in real-time for improved completion. Upcoming job assignments and directions are sent to technicians, so they always know what's next.

- ✓ Increase operational efficiency by twenty to thirty-five percent.

4 Easily Reassign At-Risk Jobs

At-risk jobs can be easily identified and rescheduled with the touch of a button, allowing more jobs to be completed each day.

- ✓ Reduce work order backlog by up to thirty-three percent.

5 Automate Invoicing

Upon successful job completion, customers are automatically invoiced, contractor work is tracked and allocated, and any additional requests are captured and billed.

- ✓ No lost revenue.
- ✓ Seamlessly track inventory.
- ✓ Boost cash flow.

6 Job Analysis

With dashboards, reviewing productivity and assessing how to improve customer service is simple. You can also evaluate revenue, project costs, and more.

- ✓ Provide contactless updates.
- ✓ Never worry about lost paperwork again.
